BIG BIDS FOR DANTE'S DUST

Mrs. Jack Gardner Goes Over Pierpont Morgan's Offer of $40,000.

J. Pierpont Morgan and Mrs. Jack Gardner are hungrily watching one another's efforts to buy from Count Costarelli of Mount Auburn street, Cambridge—husband of the famous Maude Murray, to whom fortune gave brains, beauty and wealth—his dust of Dante that once was part of the flesh and bone of the poet Dante, says a Boston special dispatch to the New York Press. The treasure consists of a laurel leaf from the bronze crown which encircled the brow of Dante when he was carried to his last resting place and some of the dust of the poet taken from the tomb thirty years ago, when the ashes were removed from Ravenna to Florence.

This composite relic was considered so priceless that it was sealed in a gold case and placed in a strong vault of Costarelli castle, in Sicily, with the idea that it would remain forever a family heirloom unless the Italian government desired to acquire it. Recently, however, its fame led to such tempting offers for its purchase that Count Costarelli, who represents the family, has been induced to consider them. The contest has narrowed down to Mrs. Gardner, who is said to want the relic for her Italian palace, and Mr. Morgan, who has spent enormous sums in the past few years on art treasures.

Mr. Morgan's offer is understood to have been $40,000, and Mrs. Gardner is willing to improve on this to the extent of a few thousands. There is a feeling among art lovers in Boston that the relic will find its way to the palace in the Fens.

Spurr's Health Tea!

MOST HEALTHFUL TEA IN THE WORLD.

The very small amount of tannin contained in Spurr's Health Tea makes it, while one of the richest Teas, the least exciting to the nervous system. Note what Professor Sharples says of Spurr's Health Tea: "The sample of Tea marked 'Spurr's Health Tea,' received from you, yields on extracting for five minutes with boiling water tannin 4.02 per cent. (Signed) S. P. Sharples."

The quantity of tannin yielded by the average Tea is 10.18 per cent. This should appeal to every tea drinker. There is only one store in Barre where Spurr's Teas and Coffees can be purchased, and that is at
